Forecast For Northwest England
Issued by Met Office Exeter
at 1600 on Thursday 08 Jul 2021

++ Valid for broadcast between 1800 and 0600

Headline:
Mostly dry overnight. Showers by day though to next week.

This Evening and Tonight:
Fine and dry this evening, with spells of late sunshine for many. Cloud will gradually move in off the sea overnight, possibly generating the odd spot of light rain or drizzle through the early hours. Mild and humid for many. Minimum temperature 11 deg C (52 deg F).

Friday:
Some showers are possible on Friday, mainly focused over Cumbria and a few could be heavy. Rather cloudy for most with only occasional sunny spells. Turning drier through the evening. Maximum temperature 22 deg C (72 deg F).

Outlook for Saturday to Monday:
Scattered showers are likely through the outlook, with a risk of thunder and hail at times. Monday could see the heaviest and most frequent of these.

(C) Crown Copyright 2021. Published by the Met Office.